RIGHTS AND OBLIGATIONS: American Anthropologist will print an appropriate credit/acknowledgement line for your contribution that includes the title, author, copyright holder/year and other pertinent information. Unless otherwise negotiated, we will assume that there is no research and/or licensing fee and that the use of your material will be on a gratis basis. If you do not control the rights to the requested material, or are not the sole grantor, please let us know whom else we should contact.

Wiley is responsible for disseminating American Anthropologist and its articles in various ways. Therefore, we request your permission to use your material in any subsequent reprint or reuse of the article, including all editions, anthologies, ancillaries, promotional pieces and single copy sales, in print and electronic media or any other media now known or hereafter devised, in all languages for distribution throughout the world. Granting us these rights will not prevent you from publishing, reprinting or reusing your contribution in any way, since we are seeking nonexclusive rights only.

It is understood that we will not have the right to grant permission for third parties to use your material as a separate item. We will forward any one-time requests for permission to reprint/reuse your contribution in a print or electronic format to you at the address listed above.

We hope that you will give our readers the benefit of seeing your material in American Anthropologist. Please indicate your consent to this request by signing below and returning this form to us at your earliest convenience. Thank you for your time and consideration.
